Connecting Youth and Canine Through Art

Dogs have many varied roles in our modern world. For most of us they are a valued companion, pet and member of the family but dogs also have crucial roles and jobs in our society. In law enforcement and military service dogs are part of elite special forces protecting our way of life. In medicine canine genetic research at N.I.H. in Bethesda, Maryland is leading the way to exciting new treatments for human disease. Therapy dogs, medical assistance dogs and medical alert dogs provide crucial benefits for specialized individual needs or in some cases group therapy. New discoveries in science and archeology are establishing new understanding of the importance of this relationship and how it impacts our quality of life. Through the art contest students learn, discover and experience this most unique relationship along with the intrinsic benefits of artistic expression.

Greater Awareness and Appreciation for Human, Canine & Art

Each year in November the Salisbury Maryland Kennel Club, the Talbot Kennel Club and the Mispillion Kennel Club conduct five days of canine competition known as The Eastern Shore Classic Dog Shows. Dogs compete in Obedience, Rally, Conformation and Junior Handling. The event is open to the public who may also participate in varied canine health clinics and find the latest and greatest in products for their four legged or two legged loved ones from our myriad of vendors. The winners of our Art Contest, Kindergarten through Grade Twelve shall be on display in gallery during this five-day event. The dates are this November 6th through the 10th at the Wicomico Youth and Civic Center, 500 Glen Avenue Salisbury, Maryland 21804

More Than a Contest

The contest reaches out to all students to teach greater awareness of, and increase respect and appreciation for the human, canine relationship. The non-traditional pairing of student's expression through visual arts strives to initiate curiosity in the societal benefits of this relationship. Students are provided an opportunity to artistically express their knowledge and personal feelings of dogs including their diversity, interdependence and beauty. Educators may elect in class learning where the Salisbury Kennel Club brings dogs to the school for a brief presentation and "hands on" experience. The goal is to engage and inspire youth and the winners will share in recognition and prize money awarded to Best in Show, Reserve Best in Show and First Prize per grade.

How it Works

The art contest is open to students Kindergarten through Grade Twelve. Each student may submit one entry with their interpretation of "Dogs, Man's Best Friend." Guidelines for entry are described below. Each student is asked to pre-register their entry and they will be provided updates and assistance. The student's final submission must be original artwork and will be judged by grade. All first prize winners shall compete for Best in Show and Reserve Best in Show. Any school that chooses to make this a curriculum item may enter all or choose their own in school winners for final entry. We will be glad to assist accordingly. Open entries are available for non-traditional or "home school" students. It is the exclusive domain of the student artist to choose composition, flat work medium and the subject matter whether purebred dog or a mixed breed to promote freedom of expression. The judging panel shall consist of local artists, art educators, AKC judges and fancy of the arts and dogs. For the 2018 contest a special category is added for computer artwork. This new medium shall be judged as one collective category with its own recognition awards.

Special Information for Supervising Adults

Please explain and discuss with your student/s or children the rules of the competition, the criteria upon which their artwork will be judged and the ethics of art. Simply put it must be an original work and not copied. Tracing or copying may have been utilized as a learning exercise however this is a contest for original expression. Students should express what they have learned or feel about the subject, Dogs, Man's Best Friend, by developing their own ideas and portraying their own visual interpretation.

Preparing for the Art Contest

Student participants will create their vision of "Dogs, Man's Best Friend" using pure bred or mixed breed dog or dogs as the subject matter. It is recommended that students study and read, reviewing pictures and videos. AKC.org is a great source for such information and learning material. A loved family pet might be the perfect subject. Hopefully students will have opportunities to learn more about our unique relationship with dogs. Students can visually express what they have learned about the subject they have chosen to depict. Students should consider the dogs anatomy, coat, coloration, unique characteristics, specialization and their own personal feelings. Decoratively designed or abstract expression will receive equal consideration as realistic depictions.

Aesthetic Considerations

Use the following to help students understand the meaning of aesthetic criteria and how to apply the criteria when developing their own illustrations. Younger students may benefit from a less formal discussion. Parents/supervising adult, when in doubt always refer to the professional art educator.

- Form: Is the subject anatomically correct or does the form express and convey the artists message?
- Expression: Does the composition overall reach the audience and invoke the intended expression?
- Texture/Line/Colors: Are the textures visually and physical appropriate? Are the details necessary, correct and effective? Are the colors appropriate for the selected subject and surrounding background? Does the artwork accurately depict the subject selected in action, habitat, environment in a realistic, decorative or abstract manner?
- Scale: Is the visual appropriate for the selected media and size?
- Clarity: Does the artwork communicate the purpose of the artist and can the elements be easily identified? Are there positive and negative areas and do they work together?

Original Student Design and Artwork

Educators and parents should not approve any student's work if they have any doubt as to its authenticity or originality. Copyright infringement is a serious issue. Please help your student and /or child avoid plagiarism. By signing the entry, the student, parent and supervising adult are all verifying that the entry is the original artwork of the student. Please see original artwork requirements and technical requirements that follow.
